

I had the privilege of working with Impulse – and specifically with David and Cheryl – on an event in April 2012. We tasked them with pulling off a themed event, with great food, on a very small budget. They were able to convince a high-end caterer to produce an out-of-the-box creative menu at a low cost, get a significant deal on a great venue and add include themed entertainment and some décor without balking. They were a pleasure throughout the whole process, and I only wish that I had more of a need for production help throughout the year so that I could work with them more often!
