

THE DOG AGENCY

HOME TO THE MOST INFLUENTIAL ANIMALS IN THE WORLD

Oh, how do I count the ways that we are thankful for Impulse?

We recently began our partnership with Impulse to put on a large-scale event in a very small window of time. To put things plainly, they killed it.

They were the most fantastic partners we could have ever hoped for and our event would not have been a success without them. Period. They took on our immense project with a patience and a dedication as if our event was their own. Their devotion to the job and the pride they have in their work not only speaks to their professionalism but the care they have for their clients.

From start to finish, there was no doubt that we were in great, capable hands with the incredible Impulse team. Their attention to detail was unbelievable, they filled in gaps that we would never have thought of, and their craftsmanship was amazing. I am still floored by the amount of talent and creativity that this team has at their disposal.

They continually went above and beyond the call of duty with every challenge we threw at them (and trust us, there were several challenges) and their relentless positivity and endless enthusiasm through every challenge not only made this planning process a lot less painful but it was also so incredibly enjoyable to work with them.

We are so pumped to continue our partnership and new friendship with this phenomenal team.
