

Impulse Testimonial:

The Impulse Group came to our rescue when planning an event in New York City for high-level executives. As a Florida-based company, we needed a partner who was reliable, responsive and knew the city well – and that’s exactly what we got with Impulse. In addition, they were able to meet our last-minute, out-of-the-box requests and work within our budget. Impulse helped our event go off without a hitch, and most important, our client was blown away.
