

---

Eric B. Derfner
Century Commercial
Principal

June 5, 2010

It is without qualification that I am able to recommend the services of The Impulse Group. Whether we need to organize an investor's dinner in NYC or a partners' conference across the country, we call on David and Adam to help organize it. Impulse always knows where to go, has access to the perfect venues and handles all the logistics and coordination. We recently called on David to produce our Firm's holiday party – he worked within our budget and delivered a high quality event. It is rare to find a company that has such a high level of service and professionalism.

Truly,

Eric Derfner